

Originally from Michigan, I found myself attending graduate school a long ways from family and friends at Texas A&M. By my second year of grad school, I decided it was time to get a companion: a dog. I knew I wanted to rescue a dog since there were plenty of good dogs at the shelter waiting for forever homes. Of course, the best dog was waiting for me at Aggieland Humane Society when I walked in that Saturday afternoon. The second I took Lady out of her crate that afternoon, she chose me to become her pet parent. It took me a little longer to decide officially, but it was definitely the best decision I made. Lady has been doing great since our adoption day. She loves squeaky toys, particularly her ladybug. She enjoys going for walks and hanging out at the dog park, where she prances around in the pond and gets lots of loving from other dog parents. But at night, she's my cuddle bug. My family always tells me that Lady rescued me and I firmly believe we rescued each other. Lady rescued me from my loneliness and gave me something great to look forward to when I came home from school and now work. And I'm happy to spoil Lady and give her the love and attention every dog deserves to know. Every day, I'm so thankful I chose to adopt Lady and I'm so grateful for Aggieland Humane Society for giving me the opportunity to meet my best friend.
